- Religious practice from all religions combined in one book
- Comprehensibly explained and luxuriously illustrated

This luxuriously illustrated book explores and demonstrates how people from different religions specifically express their faith. Every religion has procedures, rituals and symbols. It's all about religious practice, regardless of doctrines and dogmas – it's about what is visible in religions on a daily basis and what shapes the living environment of the people and many similarities are coming to light. There are many comparable rites, celebrations, ways of praying and meditating, sacred spaces, holy places, prophets, symbols and signs.

Religion is what all peoples and cultures have in common – and getting to know each other is a fascinating journey of discovery which creates solidarity among the people.
